ongressman From Pennsylvania Tells House 47 Claimed to Have Been Ignored.

An aftermath of Speaker Clark's " t denunciation of Prof. Charles Zuewho alleged the Speaker "counted a balf hundred members who wanta roll call on the Mulhall lobby rert, engaged the House today when essman M. Clyde Kelly of Penncaula inserted in the Record the mes of forty-seven members who are eged to have informed the National sters' League that they "stood up en the Speaker counted only twenty

Mr. Kelly, one of those who stood u the demand for a roll call, said he an confident the Speaker's count had a correct. How about the remaining enty-four? was the burden of Mr. elle's remarks.

Here we have a situation," said Mr. cily, "which would indicate that we ther cannot secure a roll call when dered or we cannot depend upon the embers to take the same stand in pubwhen the spotlight of publicity is rned on, as they did in the House hen the votes were counted. If fortyven stood up it was more than sufficic for a roll call.

'I believe the Speaker counted corectly when he announced only twentyree members had arisen. Yet I have the names of forty-seven members to claim to have been standing. I ant to present this matter to the ouse and insert these names in the cord, so that members and the counmay see them."

Mr. Kelly intimated that an explanan of some sort was needed from the of personal privilege, saying the expaper accounts of the votes con-sited an implication upon the integ-of the House, and asked the ques-"Are there liars in the House of Kelly put in the Record a letter had written to Lynn Haines, execu-e secretary of the National Voters' ague, and Mr. Haines' reply. Mr. asked how the names of the rt) seven had been obtained. Replying, Mr. Haines said the league as a non-partisan organization seek-g to give accurate and timely inrmation to the public about Congress. he league wanted to know how many embers voted with Congressman Maconald of Michigan not to refer the fulhall lobby report to the Judiciary ommittee, but to act on it at once, ettling the status of Congressman Mc-ermott, criticised in the report. The caker announced that only twentyand for a roll call, "not a sufficient

Prof. Zueblin charged that the easter had "counted out" the Mac-onald supporters, and House members recently joined in applauding the Speaker's statement that his count had been accurate, Mr. MacDonald said he believed the Speaker was correct, but the Voters' League has the names of fortyseven members who claimed to have good up. No comment followed Mr. Kelly's query of "How about it?" today.

Aggressive Commercial Campaign in South America Is Europeans' Plan.

BERLIN, March 11 .- Germany is preparing for an aggressive commercial ampaign in South America to counter act what is considered the political and ommercial expansion of the United States in that part of the hemisphere of Prince Henry, the Kaiser's brother and Princess Henry to Buenos Ayres. Although declared "unofficial," it is well understood that Prince Henry goes as the personal representative of his brother, the Kaiser. He will to some extent follow on Roosevelt's trait. The relations between Germany and the Ar-gentine Republic have been becoming more and more friendly.

A plan of organizing a "German Overseas Cable News Service" between Germany and South America is well under way. This has the government's support, and men close to the government are financing the scheme.

The news service from and to South America is almost wholly in the hands of the official French Havas agency of Paris. This agency supplies the Coul. American press with European nyws. It has long been one of the complication of the German government. German press, and German industries that the French agency sends little or no Gergian news to South America, and when it does, that it is invariably of a character intended to bias the South American countries politically or industrially against Germany. In this way, it is claimed the agency has done much to promote French trade and has been a difficult handicap for German industries to overcome.
